

Start Here: From Captured Data to a Useful Answer

SiteTrax.io turns compatible camera captures into structured operational records. SiteTrax.io Intelligence uses those records for questions, analysis and supported workflows. Choose the job you need to do.

| I need to...                      | Start here                                                                              |
|-----------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| Understand what Intelligence does | What is SiteTrax.io Intelligence?                                       |
| Ask about my assets               | Choose your provider's setup section                                    |
| Get an alert or routine summary   | Alerts and Scheduled Digests                                            |
| Send data to my system            | Project integration routes                                              |
| Set up capture                    | Fixed cameras , Android Capture or Snap |
| Resolve an access or data issue   | Troubleshooting Guide                                                   |

For your first assistant query, use a shared project and an identifier you can verify in the application. Check the returned time, site and evidence before building a recurring workflow around the result.

---

Revision #1

Created 2026-10-07 18:38:48 UTC by SiteTrax.io Admin

Updated 2026-10-07 18:38:54 UTC by SiteTrax.io Admin